2014 KERNELS SEASON RECAP

BY: MORGAN HAWK

The Kernels finished the season with 75 wins and 70 losses, going 73-67 in the regular season and 2-3 in the playoffs.

The team's best record was nine games above the .500 mark (72-63 and 70-61). The team's worst record was 14 games below the .500 mark (36-50 and 37-51).

The Kernels went 31-39 in the first half, finishing tied for sixth in the division. The second half concluded with 42 wins and 28 losses, the second-best record in the division.

The Kernels advanced to the playoffs for the second consecutive season, advancing one step further than 2013. They defeated Burlington (2-1) in the opening round before falling to Kane County (2-0) in the Western Division Championship Series.

The Kernels went 36-16 from July 10 until the end of the regular season. On July 10, the Kernels beat Wisconsin in Cedar Rapids. The Kernels went into the game with a 37-51 record, matching a season-worst 14 games below .500. They had also lost 12 of the first 18 games in the second half. The win started a five-game winning streak. In the July 10 game, the Kernels scored five times in the eighth inning to come back and beat Wisconsin 7-5. Logan Wade's three-run home run in the eighth inning gave the Kernels the lead. Alex Swim added a two-run double later in the inning. It was Wade's first game back after spending over two months on the disabled with a dislocated shoulder.

Minnesota Twins players Joe Mauer and Ricky Nolasco joined the Kernels on rehab stints in early August. Mauer played in four games from August 5-9. He hit .400 (6-for-15) with six singles, one run batted in, and two runs scored. He was the designated hitter for one game and played first base for three games. Nolasco made two starts for the Kernels, combining for 9 1/3 innings while earning two no-decisions. He allowed three runs on 10 hits while striking out eight and walking one. He started v. Wisconsin on August 5 and pitched 3 2/3 scoreless innings, allowing two hits while striking out two and walking one. He started v. Kane County on August 10 and went 5 2/3 innings, allowing three runs on eight hits while striking out six and walking none.

Mitch Garver was named to the Midwest League Post-Season All-Start team. Garver was the only catcher named to the team and one of only three Western Division players named to the 13-player squad.

Bryan Haar, Yorman Landa, and Kohl Stewart were all selected to play in the Mid-Season All-Star Game at West Michigan on June 17. All three were reserves on the team. Haar was the only one of the three to play in the game, playing first base and going 1-for-2.

Six Kernels were selected as Minnesota Twins Minor League Players of the Week during the season. Mitch Garver on (April 13) after going 8-for-20 with four home runs and six runs batted in during the period. Engelb Vielma on (May 11) after hitting .423 in seven games with two doubles and one triple. Todd Van Steensel on (June 15) after recording two saves in three appearances. Chih-Wei on (August 1) after collecting two wins in two starts and allowing one unearned run on four hits in 12 innings while striking out 16 and walking three. Stephen Gonsalves on (August 15) after going seven scoreless innings v. Peoria on August 15, allowing only three hits while striking out five and walking none. Jake Reed on (August 27) after picking up one win and two saves in three appearances, totaling four scoreless and hitless innings while striking out six and walking none.

Each month, the Kernels coaching staff selected a player and pitcher of the month. Tanner Vavra (April) while hitting .344 with eight runs batted in and reaching base in first 15 games played as a Kernel. Aaron Slegers (April) as he went 2-0 with a 3.14 earned run average. Chad Christensen (May) after hitting .288 with three home runs and 15 runs batted in. Kohl Stewart (May) after allowing just 21 hits in 23 innings, sporting a 2.74 earned run average. Mitch Garver (June) after hitting .345 with two home runs and 11 runs batted in. Todd Van Steensel (June) after collecting four saves with a 1.54 earned run average. Alex Swim (July) after hitting .358 and recording a 14-game hitting streak. Chih-Wei Hu (July) as he went 4-0 with a 1.50 earned run average, going six innings in all five starts. Engelb Vielma (August) as he hit for a .300 batting average with 10 runs batted in. Jake Reed (August) after pitching 13 scoreless innings and collecting a 1-0 record. The Kernels went 40-33 at home and 35-37 on the road. They finished 21-16 in day games and 54-54 at night. There was no significant difference in record based on whether the Kernels faced a right or left-handed starter. The team went 59-55 when the starter threw a right-hander and 16-15 when the opposing starter was a southpaw.

Kernels relievers had more wins than the starters (38-37). In a bigger discrepancy, relievers struck out 20 more batters than the starters in 168 fewer innings. Relievers finished with an earned run average of 2.93 while starters finished at 4.25 for a total team earned run average of 3.68. Overall, the team combined for 1,188 strikeouts and 438 walks in 1,254 1/3 innings. Kernels relievers were 35 for 48 in save opportunities.

Cedar Rapids finished 8-2 in extra innings and 3-7 in doubleheaders. They pitched nine shutouts while opponents had eight. The Kernels were 25-18 in one-run games. They won only 11 games when scoring three or fewer runs, going 64-23 when scoring at least four.

If the opponent out-hit the Kernels, most times it ended in a loss for Cedar Rapids. They went 10-45 when the opponent had more hits. The Kernels were 38-21 when hitting a home run in a game.

The Kernels defense turned 131 double plays on the season. Opponents turned 130 against the Kernels.

The Kernels scored 643 runs while opponents scored 601. The Kernels scored the most of their runs in the fourth and eighth inning, tallying 87 in each. They allowed the most in the fourth inning, 94.

Ryan Walker was the leadoff hitter the most teams this season, leading off in 39 games. 12 different Kernels led off at some point. Chad Christensen hit third in the order 117 times. 18 different Kernels batted seventh in the order at least once.

Only four players played third base this season, the fewest of any position. Bryan Haar, Jonatan Hinojosa, Joel Licon, and Logan Wade all manned the hot corner. Engelb Vielma played 110 games at shortstop. 16 different players were used as the designated hitter. The Kernels used five catchers this season: Mitch Garver, Michael Quesada, Bo Alotbelli, Alex Swim, and B.K. Santy. Logan Wade and Chad Christensen both played four different positions at some point.

Chad Christensen led the team with 37 multi-hit games while Mitch Garver led the team with 19 multi-RBI games.

The Kernels hit 80 home runs, led by Mitch Garver's 16. Garver also led the team with 79 runs batted in. Garver finished the regular season in the top-five of the Midwest League with a .298 batting average, .481 slugging percentage, and .399 on-base percentage. Garver also led the team with 29 doubles and 61 walks.

Chad Christensen finished the regular season tied for fourth in the league with 84 runs scored. Christensen played in the most games for the Kernels, 132. He also had the most at-bats (511), hits (140), and stolen bases (30). Christensen also added seven triples, but Jason Kanzler led the team with eight.

Ryan Eades was with the Kernels all season and led the pitching staff in wins (10), losses (11), starts (26), innings (138.2), and strikeouts (102).

Hudson Boyd appeared in the most games (45). Todd Van Steensel had eight saves to lead the team. Brandon Bixler recorded a team-best six holds.

The team's pinch-hitters went 6-for-11 on the season.

The Kernels scored a season-high 16 runs in a 16-5 win at Beloit on May 27. That game also included a fifth inning where eight straight reached base and 12 Kernels came to the plate, both season-highs. The fifth was one of two times where the Kernels scored seven in an inning. That also included Tanner Vavra's two hits in the same frame. The 11-run run matched their season-high for largest victory.

They allowed a season-worst 13 in a 13-3 loss to Burlington on June 15, the final day of the first half. That was also their largest loss with a deficit of 10.

19 was the high in hits for the Kernels and their opponent. The Bees tallied 19 hits on June 15 while the Kernels recorded 19 hits in a 15-5 win v. Wisconsin on July 8.

The Kernels recorded seven doubles at Burlington on May 18, winning 7-6. They allowed four home runs at Wisconsin on May 8 in an 11-7 loss.

The 15-inning marathon loss v. Kane County on August 10 left a season-worst 17 men on base. It also featured the most walks for a Kernels offense (12). In that game, Ryan Walker had seven at-bats. That was a season-high, but eight was the season-high for most plate appearances in a single game. That happened several times in 2014.

Kernels pitching walked 10 in a game twice. On May 7 at Quad Cities, they walked six in the sixth inning.

The Kernels struck out a season-worst 18 times at Quad Cities on August 25 in a 3-2 loss. That same night, Kernels pitching struck out 15 River Bandits. That was not the most strikeouts for a Kernels staff this season. That came early in the year when they punched out 16 South Bend Silver Hawks in a 7-5 loss on April 15.

From May 2-5, the Kernels did not allow a run for 28 consecutive innings. That included back to back shutouts v. Peoria. Cedar Rapids did not score for 12 2/3 innings from June 30-July 2.

The Kernels homered in a season-best four straight games from August 2-5, going 2-2 during the stretch.

Kane County tallied eight straight hits against the Kernels on June 19. However, they retired 15 in a row two separate times this season.

April 21 at Peoria – a 5-3 loss to the Chiefs – featured six wild pitches by the Kernels. Two days later, the Chiefs did not record a hit through 6 1/3 innings. Ethan Mildren pitched five hitless innings to begin that day, a game that Peoria won 2-0.

Defensively, the Kernels committed five errors twice in a single game, including Logan Wade's three-error game on Opening Night v. Clinton. Lake County committed five errors on July 16. The team went 11 straight games with an error from May 7-17. The longest consecutive errorless streak was three, which happened multiple times.

No player had five hits in a game, but many players had four hits in a single game.

Mitch Garver hit three home runs on July 21 v. Fort Wayne. Bryan Haar drove in seven runs on June 28 v. Clinton. Ryan Walker had two triples v. Burlington on June 14.

After re-joining the team on August 13, Jonatan Hinojosa collected a hit in 15 straight games, starting on August 13. That hitting streak was the team's season-high, but Alex Swim's 14-game streak from June 30-July 18 was not far behind.

Mitch Garver reached base in 28 straight games from May

2014 KERNELS SEASON RECAP

21-June 22, a streak that ended when he left a game at Peoria with concussion-like symptoms. The streak included a stretch of reaching base in seven plate appearances in a row from June 2-4.

Engelb Vielma had hits in six straight at-bats from August 18-20. Bryan Haar went hitless from April 21-29, 23 straight at-bats.

Chih-Wei Hu, Lewis Thorpe, and Stephen Gonsalves all struck out 10 in a single game. Jake Reed did not allow a run over the final 24 2/3 innings of his season. Dallas Gallant did not allow a hit over his final 8 1/3 innings. Gallant retired a season-best 21 batters in a row from August 18-September 3, a stretch that ended when a Burlington Bee reached via an error.

Chih-Wei Hu earned big honors during the month of July, his first month in the Midwest League. Hu was named Minnesota Twins Pitcher of the Month, Kernels Pitcher of the Month, and was named Midwest League Pitcher of the Week during the period July 21-27. Hu went six innings in all five starts after making his debut on July 10. He went 4-0 with a 1.50 earned run average in the five starts, allowing five earned runs and 18 hits in 30 innings. He struck out 29 and walked six.

On August 22 at Burlington, Chris Mazza struck out five Bees in a row.

The Kernels won eight games in a row from August 12-19. They also lost eight games in a row from May 10-17. The 15-inning game with Kane County on August 10 was the most innings-played and also the longest game in terms of time, lasting exactly five hours long. The longest nine-inning game came on August 8, also v. Kane County, as the game lasted three hours and 26 minutes.

The fastest nine-inning game was two hours and 14 minutes, happening twice. The fastest seven-inning game was a one hour and 46 minute game two of a doubleheader at Kane County. The game on June 19 at Kane County was completed early due to rain with two outs in the bottom of the fifth inning and took just one hour and 20 minutes.

A four-run comeback was the largest of the season, a feat that happened a few times. They lost a four-run lead twice.

The largest home attendance was on August 9 v. Kane County when 5,570 saw the Kernels beat Kane County 3-2. 8,683 fans saw Kane County beat the Kernels 6-4 at Fifth Third Bank Ballpark. The smallest crowd of the year came at Burlington's Community Field on May 15 as the Bees beat the Kernels 6-2 in front of just 227 fans.

The final regular season home game on August 29 featured two rain delays that totaled one hour and 22 minutes. The hottest game was only 90 degrees, which happened twice. The coldest came on April 14 v. South Bend at a chilly 34 degrees.

The Kernels only picked up nine wins in June but rebounded with 19 in July. Saturdays were successful as the team went 13-10 on that day. They beat Clinton 12 times, more than any other team. Kane County beat the Kernels 12 times. The Kernels never won at Peoria's Dozer Park, going 0-6.

A player went on the disabled list 21 times during the season.

All in all – 53 players put on a Kernels uniform in 2014.

CEDAR RAPIDS ALL-TIME BATTING LEADERS

Skipper Jim Lett (left) and slugger Jeff Jones helped usher in the Cincinnati Reds era in Cedar Rapids in 1980. Two years later Jones would rewrite the Cedar Rapids and Midwest League record books by belting 42 homers. The mark still stands as both a club and league record to this day. Jones led the Reds in batting average, homers, and RBI in 1982.

One year after being no-hit on three separate occasions, the Cedar Rapids Giants got some revenge when hurler Ted Barnicle pitched a complete game no-hitter against Dubuque on June 29, 1976. Manager Salty Parker, shown examining Barnicle's 'no-hit arm,' would lead the Giants to a pennant during the season many refer to as 'The Miracle on Rockford Road.'

MIKE TROUT: 2014 CEDAR RAPIDS ALUMNUS OF THE YEAR

For the third consecutive season, Mike Trout, outfielder for the LA Angels, is this year's Cedar Rapids Alumnus of the Year.

Trout was named the unanimous winner of the Americal League Most Valuable Player award after batting .279 with 36 HR, 111 RBI, 39 doubles, nine triples and 115 runs scored. He became just the 10th unanimous winner in the AL MVP voting and the youngest player (23 years, 52 days at the end of the season) to win the award.

He is also the first player in American League history to win a unanimous Rookie of the Year and MVP Award and joins Micky Mantle (1960-62), Yogi Berra (1953-55) and Hal Newhouser (1944-46) as the only American League players to finish in the Top 2 of MVP ballots in three consecutive years.

Trout is just the third major league player born in New Jersey to be named MVP, joining Brooklyn's Don Newcombe (1949) and Joe Medwick (1932) of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Trout was named the 2010 Midwest League MVP and played his last game in Cedar Rapids on July 9, 2010, almost exactly one year from the day he was put on the Angels' active roster. He hit .362 in 81 games for the Kernels and stole 45 bases in 50 attempts and was awarded the 2010 MWL Batting Title.

Trout lives in Millville, NJ. His father, Jeff, played in the Twins system.

Losing streak forces a shakeup

BY MIKE BERARDINO

A season that began with a cancer scare for general manager Terry Ryan ended with a task that was just as unpleasant and nearly as difficult: Firing his longtime friend Ron Gardenhire as Twins manager.

Four straight seasons of 92 or more losses proved too much for Gardenhire to overcome, even after leading the small-revenue club to six American League Central titles in his first nine seasons as manager, 2002-10.

The Twins ultimately hired Paul Molitor as Gardenhire's replacement, after the Hall of Famer spent the season as a baserunning and infield-defense coach for the big league team. Minnesota also interviewed high Class A Fort Myers manager Doug Mientkiewicz and Red Sox bench coach Torey Lovullo for the position.

While Molitor got the nod after spending 16 of the past 19 seasons in the organization in a variety of roles, the mere fact Lovullo made it that far spoke to the depth of the Twins' concern. Among the most stable and loyal organizations in all of professional sports, the Twins actually were considering going outside the family for just their third manager in nearly three full decades. That period dates to the firing of Ray Miller in September 1986 and the elevation of Tom Kelly, who would lead the franchise to a pair of World Series titles in 1987 and '91.

While position prospects Danny Santana, a shortstop/center fielder, and Kennys Vargas, a first baseman, reached the majors and had success in 2014, righthander Trevor May struggled to a 7.88 ERA after getting the call in early August. Tommy John surgery wiped out the entire season for third baseman Miguel Sano, the organization's No. 2 prospect. Top-rated center fielder Byron Buxton, meanwhile, took just 137 plate appearances thanks to a nagging left wrist injury, and his year ended in mid-August with a harrowing collision at Double-A New Britain that resulted in a concussion.

In the minors, Twins affiliates went a combined 366-327 (.528) and reached the playoffs at three levels. That included a Florida State League title for Mientkiewicz and the Miracle, a first for that franchise in 22 years as a Twins affiliate.

Despite those successes, minor league hitting coordinator Bill Springman and Fort Myers pitching coach Gary Lucas were each dismissed after 15 years in the organization. Rookie-level Gulf Coast League pitching coach Ehren Wassermann also wasn't invited back, with former journeyman righthander Virgil Vasquez hired to take his place.

Second-year farm director Brad Steil made those recommendations, and Ryan honored them in hopes of expediting the Twins' turnaround.

Scouting director Deron Johnson added a third straight top-five amateur talent with the selection of Orlando prep shortstop Nick Gordon, son of former big leaguer Tom "Flash" Gordon. He joins first-rounders Buxton (2012) and Kohl Stewart (2013), a righthander, in the fold. For the second time in three years, Johnson loaded up with hard-throwing college relievers as the Twins attempt to mimic other clubs by adding pitchers who miss bats.

Internationally, the Twins added 16-year-old Dominican righthander Huascar Ynoa for $800,000 but otherwise opted for quantity over splashy signings.

BYRON BUXTON, OF

BORN: Dec. 18, 1993. B-T: R-R. HT.: 6-2.
WT.: 190. DRAFTED: HS—Baxley, Ga. 2012
(1st round). SIGNED BY: Jack Powell.

BACKGROUND: Buxton has been named the Baseball America High School Player of the Year (2012) and its Minor League Player of the Year (2013). He jumped onto the fast track after the Twins drafted him second overall in 2012, then gave him a $6 million bonus that remains the largest in franchise history. Buxton helped Rookie-level Elizabethton win the Appalachian League title in his first professional summer and then took his game to another level in 2013, dominating the Midwest and Florida State leagues. A strained left shoulder shortened his first Arizona Fall League assignment by a couple of weeks, but that setback was nothing compared with what Buxton experienced in 2014. First, he sprained his left wrist in mid-March while attempting a diving catch on a back field. Once he made it to high Class A Fort Myers a month into the season, he re-injured the wrist five games later while sliding home. This time it took him two months to return to action. Buxton logged a .956 OPS in 15 July games before again missing time after being hit by pitch on his right (other) wrist. Sent to Double-A New Britain on Aug. 13, he struck out in his only three at-bats before suffering a harrowing outfield collision with right fielder Mike Kvasnicka. Rushed to the hospital, Buxton was fortunate to escape with only a season-ending concussion.

SCOUTING REPORT: Widely acknowledged as the top prospect in the game by

SCOUTING GRADES

BATTING: 70. DEFENSE: 80.
POWER: 60. ARM: 70.
SPEED: 80.

Based on 20-80 scouting scale and future projection rather than present grades.

the time he played in the 2013 Futures Game, Buxton has done little to harm that reputation when healthy. Blessed with quick hands and strong wrists, he generates tremendous bat speed and keeps the bat in the zone for a long time. He has an advanced approach at the plate and shows good plate discipline, though his strikeout (24.6 percent) and walk (7.5 percent) rates diverged in his second pass through the FSL. Buxton generates easy power to all fields. Timed at 3.9 seconds from the batter's box to first base, he is an 80 runner but still must improve his reads and instincts while on base. In the field, Buxton has plus-plus arm strength and range, gliding to balls others must strain to reach. Naturally reserved and ever polite, Buxton has become more comfortable with teammates.

THE FUTURE: Sent back to the AFL for a second straight year, Buxton sustained another injury, this time a dislocated middle finger on his left hand. When he gets a fresh start in 2015, he will report to Chattanooga, the Twins' new Double-A affiliate in the Southern League, with the hope that he can resume the roll he enjoyed in 2013. Buxton turns 21 this offseason and could reach the majors by the end of 2015 with a chance to put down roots in center the following year.

Baseball America Twins Top 10 Prospects

FROM THE PAGES OF BASEBALL AMERICA . . . FROM THE PAGES OF BASEBALL AMERICA . . .

2. MIGUEL SANO, 3B

BORN: May 11, 1993. B-T: R-R. HT: 6-3. WT: 232. SIGNED: Dominican Republic, 2009. SIGNED BY: Fred Guerrero. BACKGROUND: Signed out of the Dominican Republic for $3.15 million, the fifth-highest bonus in Twins history, Sano weathered a lengthy pre-signing ordeal that included an age dispute. He rocketed to the top spot on the Twins' prospect list after 2012 before stepping aside for Byron Boston in 2013. He had Tommy John surgery in mid-March 2014, wiping out his entire season.

SCOUTING REPORT: Blessed with scale-busting power and an advanced understanding at the plate, Sano now is a year removed from a 35-homer season that ranked him fourth in the minors. His surgery didn't entirely come as a surprise after he missed all but two games last winter in the Dominican League with soreness in his throwing elbow. A below-average runner, he used the down time to continue shedding fat and improving his all-around athleticism. Sano won't return to game action until December at the earliest. The Twins hope to keep him at third base, though his throwing accuracy was an issue even before surgery.

THE FUTURE: Even with incumbent third baseman Trevor Plouffe coming off surgery to repair a fractured left forearm and in line for another hefty raise via arbitration, Sano likely must wait another half-season or so before taking over the hot corner for the Twins. Adding him to the 40-man roster will finally be a necessity this November.

3. JOSE BERRIOS, RHP

BORN: May 27, 1994. B-T: R-R. HT: 6-0. WT: 189. DRAFTED: HS—Bayamon, P.R., 2012 (1st round supplemental). SIGNED BY: Hector Otero. BACKGROUND: Selected 32nd overall out of high school in 2012, Berrios signed for $1.55 million. The organization's minor league pitcher of the year in 2014, he struck out Robinson Cano in the 2013 World Baseball Classic and started for the World team at the 2014 Futures Game at Target Field.

SCOUTING REPORT: Working closely with pitching coach Gary Lucas the past two seasons at low Class A Cedar Rapids and high Class A Fort Myers, Berrios has seen his confidence and mound presence blossom. An excellent athlete who fields his position and holds runners well, Berrios topped out at 98 mph, and his fastball typically sits at 92-94 and shows late life. Throwing from a three-quarters arm angle, Berrios' slurry breaking ball comes in at 80-82 mph, but he can vary the speed and break on it. Fully committed to his changeup, Berrios used it as an out pitch, throwing as many as 20 per game. He skipped a start in early August with shoulder stiffness, but he established a career high with 140 innings.

THE FUTURE: Bumped up to Triple-A Rochester for use start at the end of 2014, Berrios figures to return there in 2015. If he continues to progress, then he projects as a No. 3 starter.

4. KOHL STEWART, RHP

BORN: Oct. 7, 1994. B-T: R-R. HT: 6-3. WT: 208. DRAFTED: HS—Houston, 2013 (1st round). SIGNED BY: Greg Fluitt. BACKGROUND: Passing up a chance to succeed Johnny Manziel as quarterback at Texas A&M, Stewart turned pro for $4,544,000 as the 2013 draft's fourth overall pick. A Type-1 diabetic, he has had no trouble maintaining his stamina in pro ball but has been plagued by late-season shoulder issues in both 2013 and 2014. In the latter season, Stewart topped out near 75 pitches per start and logged just five innings after July 17 after coming down with shoulder inflammation and losing velocity.

SCOUTING REPORT: Blessed with a strong, athletic frame and a clean delivery he repeats with ease, Stewart brandishes a 93-96 mph fastball that shows plus life. He also mixes in an occasional hard slider but prefers to put hitters away with a mid-80s power slider that ranks among the best in the system. His other two pitches project to at least average but could still use some work. His curveball shows 12-to-6 action at its best, while his changeup remains inconsistent but has shown good sink and tumble. Perhaps because hitters could eliminate two pitches on many nights, Stewart's strike-out rate was of 6.4 per nine innings was well off the pace for top minor league starters. He shows competitive fire and mound swagger that can grate on opponents and umpires alike.

THE FUTURE: Still just 20, Stewart should move up to high Class A Fort Myers next season, and if he can miss more bats and stay off the DL he could reach a ceiling as a No. 2 starter.

5. ALEX MEYER, RHP

BORN: Jan. 3, 1990. B-T: R-R. HT: 6-9. WT: 220. DRAFTED: Kentucky, 2011 (1st round). SIGNED BY: Reed Dunn (Nationals). BACKGROUND: Acquired from the Nationals in a straight-up trade for Denard Span, Meyer has spent the past two years maturing in the upper reaches of the system. He missed 70 weeks with a strained throwing shoulder in 2013, then remained healthy in 2014 until mild shoulder fatigue in his final start at Triple-A Rochester kept him from an expected September callup.

SCOUTING REPORT: A towering 6-foot-9 and gangly, Meyer still struggles at times to repeat his delivery. Control remains an issue, as shown by a walk rate of 4.4 per nine innings. On the plus side, Meyer led all Twins starters with 10.6 strikeouts per nine, thanks to a double-plus four-seam fastball that sits at 95-98 mph and has touched 100. He mixes in a low-90s slider with good across-the-run and a power knuckle-curve that shows good depth and finish at 84-87 mph. With the help of pitching coordinator Eric Rasmussen, Meyer altered his changeup grip to more of a pitchfork style and has shown success over the pitch and generating sink and fade.

THE FUTURE: Meyer will be 25 when he reports to spring training, and the Twins were ready to bring him to the majors in a relief role last September until he showed signs of fatigue after throwing a career-high 130 innings. Soon enough he will join fellow 20-somethings Kyle Gibson and Trevor May in a rotation that needs all the help it can get.

6. NICK GORDON, SS

BORN: Oct. 26, 1995. B-T: L-R. HT: 6-1. WT: 171. DRAFTED: HS—Orlando, 2014 (1st round). SIGNED BY: Brett Dowdy. BACKGROUND: Son of 21-year big league veteran Tom Gordon and younger half-brother of Dodgers second baseman Derrek Gordon, Nick might be the most talented Gordon of all. Taken 6th overall in 2014 after a standout prep career at Olympia High, he signed for $3,651 million. A broken index finger on his left hand ended Gordon's season at Double-A Elizabethton in the first round of Appalachian League playoffs.

SCOUTING REPORT: Some rival evaluators question whether Gordon has the quick-twitch athleticism to stay at shortstop long term, but scouting director Devon Johnson and his staff had no such doubts. He shows outstanding instincts, work ethic and makeup and quickly named Derek into an draft right as his ultimate role model. With soft, sure hands and a plus arm, Gordon made just eight errors and posted the highest fielding percentage (.964) of any Appy League shortstop. At the plate, he has the ability to hit for average and power with an advanced knack for driving the ball to the opposite field. He has plenty of present bat speed, but the Twins foresee more power as he gets stronger and learns to pull the ball. His raw speed is above average but he plays down a notch out of the box due to his big swing.

THE FUTURE: Gordon should open his first full pro season at low Class A Cedar Rapids, where he will get his first taste of cold weather.

7. NICK BURDI, RHP

BORN: Jan. 19, 1993. B-T: R-R. HT: 6-4. WT: 215. DRAFTED: Louisville, 2014 (2nd round). SIGNED BY: Alan Sandberg. BACKGROUND: After taking a 24th-round flier on Burdi out of high school in 2011, the Twins grabbed him in the second round (46th overall) after an All-America career as a closer at Louisville. Signed for $1.22 million after coaching the College World Series, Burdi made it clear he hoped to reach the majors as soon as possible, then suffered through a four-week, no-out nightmare in his pro debut at low Class A Cedar Rapids before lighting the ship.

SCOUTING REPORT: Burdi formerly hit 101 mph in the Cape Cod League, owning a powerful right arm that he hones with an unconventional program of super-long toss. With an 80 fastball on the 30-40 scouting scale, Burdi's low-end velocity as a reliever is still 95-98 mph. He devastating 87-90 mph slider shows good tilt and slice. Burdi works on a changeup on the side, but so far has had no occasion to bring it into games. He stays in his max-effort delivery well, but Fort Myers pitching coach Gary Lucas had to monitor Burdi for those times when his elbow would drop or his hand would get on the side of the ball.

THE FUTURE: After finishing 46 in his final 25 innings in 2014, Burdi put himself on the fast track. Considering his confident demeanor and college coaching background, the Twins will let his success dictate how quickly he moves. If he stays in relief, he could start at Double-A.

8. JORGE POLANCO, SS/2B

BORN: July 5, 1993. B-T: R-R. HT: 5-11. WT: 185. SIGNED: Dominican Republic, 2009. SIGNED BY: Fred Guerrero. BACKGROUND: A switch-hitter who has added 20 pounds since signing for $775,000, Polanco reached the majors briefly in 2014 and handled himself well in a five-game midseason cameo. He has shown the ability to play both middle-infield spots, and while he dominated the high Class A Florida State League, he struggled at times after making the jump to Double-A New Britain.

SCOUTING REPORT: Reminding some of a young Tony Fernandez at the plate, Polanco uses the whole field and has already learned to turn on pitches on the inner half. Polanco has at least average speed but has a long way to go with his baserunning acumen. In particular, he struggles to read pickoff moves, as shown by his career success rate of just 55 percent on stolen-base attempts. Polanco made 35 errors this season at shortstop, though he has soft hands, an average arm and range that could improve to above-average as he learns to get better reads off the bat.

THE FUTURE: Now 21, Polanco figures to return to Double-A in 2015. It remains to be seen whether he will stay at shortstop or move back to second. Some of that could be dictated by shortstop Danny Santana's future in Minnesota.

9. TREVOR MAY, RHP

BORN: Sept. 23, 1989. B-T: R-R. HT: 6-5. WT: 215. DRAFTED: HS—Kelson, Wash., 2008 (4th round). SIGNED BY: Dave Ryles (Phillies). BACKGROUND: Control issues led to May's inclusion along with Vance Worley in a December 2012 deal in which the Phillies acquired outfielder Ben Revere. A seven-walk big league debut in Oakland threatened to undercut his significant gains, but May stabilized well enough to finish out the year in the rotation.

SCOUTING REPORT: Armed with one of the best changeups in the system and the ability to miss bats, May has a strong frame and a physical presence on the mound. However, he still struggles at times with a less focus and fastball command. His 92-94 mph four-seamer has some run when he keeps it down in the zone, but location can be a problem. He has a 76-78 mph curveball that he still features on occasion, and his 82-85 mph slider could be sharper. High pitch counts are a common refrain for May, who falls out of attack mode too frequently and sometimes labors to finish batters. He did a much better job of working in to the right-handers, producing more weak contact on the ground.

THE FUTURE: May will head to spring training with a chance to extend his run in the Twins rotation. A potential No. 4 starter if he can improve his control, he would do well to continue his apprenticeship under fellow right-hander Phil Hughes.

10. EDDIE ROSARIO, OF/2B

BORN: Sept. 26, 1991. B-T: L-R. HT: 6-0. WT: 180. DRAFTED: HS—Guayama, P.R., 2010 (4th round). SIGNED BY: Hector Otero. BACKGROUND: The Twins now view Rosario as the third-most prominent Puerto Rico product in the organization, behind right-hander Jose Berrios and slugger Kenyans Vargas. A 50-game suspension for violating baseball's recreational drug policy wiped out Rosario's first two months in 2014, and he struggled uncharacteristically at the plate once he returned to Double-A New Britain.

SCOUTING REPORT: Rosario's hit tool ranks among the best in the system. He generates outstanding bat speed and plate coverage, flashing his hands through the zone and generating gap power, and he projects to hit a dozen or more home runs. Selectivity remains an issue with a skewed strikeout-to-walk ratio. Defensively, his footwork and range still need work at second base, where he logged just 18 games in 2014, but in the outfield he takes good routes and shows an above-average arm. A slightly above-average runner at his best, Rosario has been successful on just 54 percent of his stolen-base attempts the past three seasons.

THE FUTURE: Rosario must be added to the 40-man roster this winter or be subject to the Rule 5 draft. With the Twins' outfield situation unsettled, Rosario's best chance to reach the majors in a hurry could be in left field to replace the traded Josh Willingham.
